Investments Limited

Approved (Minimum)
Retirement Fund

BESPOKE
Investments Limited

Retirement planning doesn't end when you retire. You no longer have to hand over your retirement fund to an insurance company in return for a guaranteed income.

The introduction of Approved Retirement Funds (ARF) gives you the opportunity to invest your retirement fund in a manner best suited to you. An ARF gives you complete freedom as to how and where you want to invest your hard earned retirement fund subject to certain Revenue restrictions.

What is an ARF?

An ARF is a tax free post retirement investment vehicle. Investments in an ARF grow free of Irish income and capital gains tax. The ARF is the 'vehicle' that allows you to pick and chose the investments that suit your attitude to risk. An ARF investment could be a bank account, a tracker bond, a share portfolio with a stockbroking house or an investment in a managed fund with an insurance company or a mix of these and more. Income taken from an ARF is subject to tax.

What is the difference between an ARF and an annuity?

With an annuity you effectively hand over a sum of money to an insurance company which in return provides you with an annual taxable income. An ARF is an alternative to an annuity, an ARF is a post retirement vehicle where you determine where funds are to be invested and how these investments perform will determine the value of your ARF.

How safe are my assets?

Many clients are uncomfortable with the notion that their ARF is held "on the balance sheet" of the Insurance Company. This means that if an Insurance Company gets into difficulty, the ARF policyholder must join the queue with other creditors in an attempt to get their assets back. With a Bespoke Self Administered ARF, the investor is the beneficiary of all the assets. The manner in which the assets are held will depend on the nature of the assets.

The advantage of the Bespoke self-administered ARF is that:

- 1 Cash is held in a designated client ARF/AMRF account – separate from the Qualified Fund Manager’s (QFM) own bank accounts.
- 2 Stocks and shares are held in a nominee account – separate from the QFM’s assets.
- 3 Property is held in the name of the ARF on behalf of the investor and title deeds are placed with a solicitor.

What are the advantages of an ARF?

You have the freedom to invest your self-administered ARF wherever you wish. That means that you could use bank accounts, direct property, direct shares etc. – but if you wish you can mix Insurance Company funds in there also.

Who can invest in an ARF?

- A Personal Pension Plan investors
- B Personal Retirement Savings Account (PRSA) investors
- C Small Self-Administered Scheme investors, subject to certain conditions
- D Members of employer-sponsored defined benefit pension schemes who have made additional voluntary contributions
- E Members of employer sponsored defined contribution pension schemes

Liquidity

There is a necessity to maintain a proportion of the assets in liquid form. The reason for this is to ensure that management fees can be paid and that the tax due on the annual deemed distribution can be submitted to the Revenue.

Income

When funds are drawn from an ARF, an income tax liability will result for the ARF investor.

Charges & Fees

The charging structure for our self-administered ARF is quite flexible and is agreed in advance, depending on the size and complexity of the assets.

What is an Approved Minimum Retirement Fund?

An Approved Minimum Retirement Fund (AMRF) is similar to an ARF in that the funds can be invested in any number of ways. The main constraint in relation to an AMRF is the draw down of benefits. As of January 2015 the AMRF holder may access up to a maximum of 4% of the value of the AMRF each year as a taxable distribution subject to Income Tax until age 75 at which point the AMRF becomes an ARF. At any stage however the AMRF can be used to purchase an annuity.

Acceptable investments under a Bespoke ARF (not limited to)

Early Exit Penalties

Those extra allocations given by the Insured ARF at the outset are instrumental in “tying” the client to the Insurance Company for the first 5 years – which may not be in the best interest of the client. What we give is absolute flexibility and if you decide next year that you no longer wish to deal with Bespoke, you have the freedom to instruct us to transfer the ARF to a new provider at zero cost. There is no early exit penalty or other “handcuff” between your ARF and Bespoke.

What happens to my ARF if I die?

The tax treatment of an ARF on death will depend on to whom the ARF/AMRF assets are passed to as follows (accurate to January 2015):

ARF Passing To	Income Tax	Capital Acquisition Tax
Spouse	No	No
Child under 21	No	Yes
Child 21 or over	Yes at 30%	No
Others	Yes up to 40%	Yes

A spouse can acquire the ARF of a deceased investor and transfer the assets to an ARF in their own name without any income tax or capital acquisitions tax liability. Any draw downs of income from the ARF by the surviving spouse will be liable to income tax in the normal manner.

It should be noted that an ARF can only remain an ARF where it passes to a surviving spouse. In all other cases the ARF will end and the assets of the ARF must be liquidated and distributed to the particular beneficiary.

Tax Benefits & Implications

Similar to a pension scheme, an ARF is a tax-free investment vehicle. Investments are allowed to grow free of both income and capital gains tax while invested in the ARF. It is only when funds are drawn from an ARF that a tax liability will arise for the ARF investor. Funds drawn from an ARF will be liable to income tax in the same way a salary is. The ARF provider is obligated to deduct income tax under the PAYE rules. The current (January 2015) annual taxable ‘imputed distribution’ which will be applied to the value of assets in ARFs is summarised below:

4% for individuals with combined ARF and vested PRSA assets less than €2 million and who are between 60 and 69 for the full tax year

5% for individuals with combined ARF and vested PRSA assets less than €2 million and who are 70 or over for the full tax year

6% for individuals with combined ARF and vested PRSA assets more than €2 million and who are 60 or over for the full tax year

4.1 These Supplementary Terms are additional to and should be read with the Conexim General Terms of Business (the "Terms"). Defined terms in these Supplementary Terms shall have the same meaning as the Terms.

4.4 If you are setting up an AMRF or ARF account with Conexim you must sign this agreement and also the attached Declaration and you must provide a Certificate from the existing Qualifying Fund Manager, Pension Scheme Trustees or the Life Office from whom you are transferring monies or assets. The certificate is included for completion in this pack.

4.5 The amount transferred into your AMRF may be withdrawn to purchase an annuity at any time. As of January 2015 .

Bespoke Investments and Conexim ARF / AMRF Application Form and Declaration of Consent

the AMRF holder may access up to a maximum of 4% of the value of the AMRF each year as a taxable distribution subject to Income Tax. No such restrictions apply to withdrawals from your ARF.

- 4.6 The taxation of your ARF or AMRF will be based on the applicable legislation prevailing at the time.
- 4.7 If you wish, you are entitled at any time to transfer the balance of your AMRF or ARF to another Qualifying Fund Manager. Such a request must be submitted to us in writing.
- 4.8 At age 75 your AMRF will automatically become an ARF. If you die before age 75 your AMRF automatically becomes an ARF.
- 4.9 An AMRF will convert to an ARF should you satisfy the specified minimum income requirement of €12,700 per annum. Specified income is a pension or annuity which is payable for the life of the individual. Specified income includes Social Welfare pensions and pensions paid from overseas. Pensions paid directly to a spouse, or pensions/allowances received on behalf of a spouse/dependent may not be taken into account. If you become entitled to guaranteed income for life of the specified amount you are required to inform us without delay.
- 4.10 The required annual distribution from an ARF is 4% for individuals with combined ARF and vested PRSA assets less than €2 million and who are between 60 and 69 for the full tax year, 5% for individuals with combined ARF and vested PRSA assets less than €2 million and who are 70 or over for the full tax year, and 6% for individuals with combined ARF and vested PRSA assets more than €2 million and who are 60 or over for the full tax year. You are required to inform Conexim of any other ARFs and Vested PRSAs you hold, and to confirm if the combined value of these ARFs and vested PRSAs in conjunction with your ARF held with Conexim exceeds €2 million. Deductions from the distributions will be based on your current tax certificate which we will ask to be supplied to Conexim. An ARF is subject to an imputed distribution if the required annual distribution based on the value of the ARF fund as at 30th November is not withdrawn before 31st December each tax year.
- 4.11 Income and gains within ARF funds are exempt from tax. Any amounts withdrawn from an ARF are referred to as a distribution. A distribution is treated as a payment of emoluments to which Schedule E applies. Payments from an ARF are not payments of pension. As such, all payments to non-residents are subject to tax as emoluments and it is not possible to obtain a PAYE exclusion order.

The use of an ARF as security for a loan constitutes a distribution. ARF funds may be used at any time to purchase an annuity payable to the beneficial owner. The annuity purchase is not a distribution. The purchase of an annuity for any other person will be treated as a distribution.

The following are distributions:

- Loans made to the beneficial owner or connected person.
- Acquisition of property from the beneficial owner or connected person
- Sale of an ARF asset to the beneficial owner or connected person

- Acquisition of residential or holiday property for use by the beneficial owner or connected person
- Acquisition of property which is to be used in connection with any business of the beneficial owner, or of a connected person. The distribution arises on the date such use commences. The distribution is the amount of the value of the ARF assets used in connection with the acquisition and any expenditure on improvement or repair of the property
- Acquisition of tangible moveable property (chattels)
- Acquisition of shares in a close company in which the beneficial owner, or connected person, is a participator.

A close company means a company under the control of 5 or fewer participators, or of participators who are directors. Please refer to Section 430 of the Taxes Consolidation Act 1997, for a complete definition.

A participator in relation to any company, means a person having a share or interest in the capital or income of a company. Please refer to Section 433 of the Taxes Consolidation Act 1997 for a complete definition.

Definitions of "connected persons" and "relative" are contained in Section 10 of the Taxes Consolidation Act 1997.

If you have any doubt in relation to distributions, or need assistance with interpretation of any of these terms in relation to distributions, please discuss your query with Bespoke Investments, Conexim, your accountant or your legal advisor prior to instructing on any investment or transaction that would trigger a distribution from your ARF. If you are acting on an Execution-Only Basis, you should familiarise yourself with Section 784A(1A) and Section 784A(1B) of the Taxes Consolidation Act 1997 in relation to distributions and the amounts to be regarded as a distribution.

- 4.12 You hereby consent to Conexim, in discharge of its obligations as your QFM, to deduct any amounts required for remittance to the Revenue Commissioners in relation to distributions or imputed distributions, and that such deductions and remittances may be made without further instruction from you. Any withdrawals from the ARF or AMRF are subject to Income Tax and other levies, and tax may also become payable on the ARF or AMRF in the event of your death. As QFM Conexim are required to fulfil these deduction obligations and are obliged to make the relevant tax returns to the Revenue Commissioners. Please note that we will make these deductions and will make other payments arising from the acquisition or sale of assets, as well as any other administration costs of the ARF/AMRF as detailed in the Fee Schedule provided to you.
- 4.13 We undertake to provide you with an AMRF or ARF which will be governed by the Terms, these Supplementary Terms and the Pershing Agreement.
- 4.14 In the event that the liabilities of the ARF or AMRF are greater than its assets you hereby agree to indemnify Conexim against payments made and all reasonable costs incurred by Conexim in its role as QFM.
